*Since the data for this book was obtained the city of Ballard, Washington, has been made a postal station of Seattle, Washington.

The names of the suburban cities and towns to which mail is delivered by carrier from the principal cities also appear in their appropriate place.

The lowest and highest numbers are given opposite each street upon which the houses were numbered at the time the data for this Directory was furnished by the postmasters.

The named streets, avenues, courts, places, etc., are arranged in alphabetical order, as are also the cities in which they are to be found. The numbered streets follow in their natural sequence.

The following examples will illustrate the uses of the Directory in supplying omissions and correcting errors in the addresses of letters at offices not furnished with other books of reference:

A letter is addressed to—

Mr. Samuel Stratton,

No. 405 Colyton St.

By consulting the Directory it will be seen that this street can be found only in the city of Los Angeles, Cal. The name of that post-office and state should therefore be added to the superscription.

Another letter is addressed—

Mrs. Mary L. Wilson,

West Houston St., near Soledad,

Texas.

Care Chas. A. Wilkins.

Referring to the Directory in this case we find that while several cities in Texas have a West Houston St., but one includes a Soledad St., viz, San Antonio, and hence we infer that Mrs. Mary L. Wilson is in that city.

A letter to—

Joseph Clifford,

No. 8 Allord St.

should go to New Bedford, Mass., that being the only city having an Allord St.

A fourth letter is addressed—

Albert Harris, Esq.,

Woodward Ave.,

Bet. Grand River Ave. and State.

As we discover that Detroit, Mich., is the only city in which all three of these streets can be found, the intention of the writer becomes obvious.

Another letter is directed to—

S. H. Hammond & Co.,

No. 2022 Jefferson Place.

While there is a Jefferson Place in eleven different cities, the numbers do not run as high as 2022 in any but Baltimore, Md. It is therefore fair to assume that the letter belongs there.

It will have been observed that the foregoing are all examples of the OMISSION of an important PART of the address.

Now take the case of MISDIRECTION:

A letter is addressed—

Frank Stuart,
No. 6800 Glades Ave.,
St. Paul, Minn.

Upon its arrival there it can not be delivered, because there is no such street in that city. The Directory shows that there is a Glades Ave. in St. Louis, Mo., only.

Again, take the case of a letter which has reached Washington, D. C., addressed as follows:

Richard Armstrong, Esq.,
Cor. 9th and Almonte Ave.,
Washington, D. C.

The distributing clerk at once discovers that it was not intended for delivery in that city because there is no Almonte Ave. there. By consulting the Directory, he will find that although a very large number of cities have a 9th street, there is but one Almonte Ave., and that is in Grand Forks, N. Dak.

Another letter is addressed—

N. S. Newman,
No. 20 Alonzo Ave.,
Columbus,
Ohio.

The Directory shows that Alonzo Ave. is in Cleveland, Ohio, and in no other city.

In the Dead Letter Office, and at some of the larger post-offices where the directories of other cities are kept, this book will be of great value as an index.

To illustrate, a letter is addressed to—

In such a case it shows that it will be necessary to refer to but two directories, at most, to discover the intended destination of the letter, for the reason that Aloe St. will be found in the following places only: Pittsburg, Pa. and Providence, R. I.

The names of the suburban cities and towns which are served from the principal cities are given in italics. Mail matter for these places should be addressed to the main office, and the name of the suburb written at the left lower corner of the envelope, in parentheses, as follows:
